

Scottish & Northern Ireland Banknote Issuance Annual Report 2022

Report on the Bank of England's work under the Scottish & Northern Ireland Banknote Regulations 2009

Executive Summary

- Four commercial banks in Northern Ireland and three commercial banks in Scotland are authorised to issue their own banknotes (the “authorised banks”), and are required to hold ring-fenced assets that back their note issuance at all times. The aggregate backing requirement of all seven banks at end-February 2022 was £8.15 billion, an increase of 2.1% from £7.98 billion in 2021.
- At end-February 2022, the three authorised banks in Scotland had an aggregate backing requirement of £5.48 billion, comprising £5.33 billion of Notes in Circulation and £0.15 billion of Notes with the Potential to Enter Circulation (as defined in paragraph 11). The four authorised banks in Northern Ireland had an aggregate backing requirement of £2.67 billion, comprising £2.48 billion of Notes in Circulation and £0.19 billion of Notes with the Potential to Enter Circulation.¹
- The Bank of England (“the Bank”) is responsible for the regulation of note issue by the seven authorised banks. The Bank undertakes a range of supervisory and compliance activity throughout the year and analysis of daily regulatory reporting provided by all authorised banks. Where regulatory requirements were not met during the period, the Bank conducted an investigation and remedial actions were agreed with the authorised banks.
- There was a satisfactory level of compliance with the regime during the year to end-February 2022. During the twelve month period, the Bank did not assess any ‘Notable’, ‘Serious’, or ‘Underbacking’ compliance failures (the categories of failures are defined in the Statement of Penalty Policy (“SPP”)).²

Introduction

1. The Bank assumed responsibility for the regulation of note issue by the three authorised banks in Scotland and four authorised banks in Northern Ireland on 23 November 2009.
2. Regulation 18 of the Scottish and Northern Ireland Banknote Regulations 2009 (“the Regulations”) requires the Bank to publish an annual report on the discharge of its functions under the Regulations. This is the thirteenth such report, and covers the Bank’s activities from 1 March 2021 to 28 February 2022 (the Bank’s 2021/22 financial year).

Historical background

3. The seven authorised banks (or their predecessors) have been regulated with regard to the backing of their banknotes since 1845. Part 6 of the Banking Act 2009 (“the Act”), which came into effect on 23 November 2009, repealed the legislation under which banknote issuance in Scotland and Northern Ireland was previously regulated and passed the responsibility for regulation to the Bank. Part 6 of the Act updated and modernised the framework for commercial note issuance to provide enhanced noteholder protection.
4. The authorised banks are:
 - AIB Group (UK) plc³ (previously traded as First Trust Bank in Northern Ireland);
 - Bank of Ireland (UK) plc;
 - Bank of Scotland plc;
 - Clydesdale Bank plc;
 - Northern Bank Limited (trades as Danske Bank in Northern Ireland);
 - The Royal Bank of Scotland plc; and
 - National Westminster Bank plc (trades as Ulster Bank in Northern Ireland).

Legislative framework

5. The Act and the Regulations set out the framework for the Bank’s responsibilities for regulating the authorised banks’ note issuance. The primary objective of the legislation is noteholder protection. The provisions in the legislation are designed to ensure that holders of genuine banknotes issued by the authorised banks receive a level of protection similar to that provided to holders of Bank of England notes, through the full backing of notes at all times (see Noteholder Protection paragraphs below for more detail). The Bank is not responsible for the design of the authorised banks’ banknotes or their robustness against counterfeiting.
6. The authorised banks’ note issuance is governed by the Act, the Regulations and the related Scottish and Northern Ireland Banknotes Rules (“the Rules”). These came into force in November 2009 together with a Statement of Penalty Policy (“the SPP”). Both the Rules and SPP are revised periodically; the current Rules have been in effect since April 2017 and the current SPP has been in effect since August 2018.

7. In addition, the authorised banks must comply with conditions, known as General Conditions and Specific Conditions that set out the requirements for the holding of backing assets and Excluded Notes (see Noteholder Protection paragraphs below for more detail). As the General Conditions and Specific Conditions include sensitive material, such as the security standards that sites holding backing assets must meet, they are not published.

8. The Bank has the authority to impose financial penalties on the authorised banks for non-compliance with the Regulations and the Rules.

Noteholder protection

9. Under the Regulations, the authorised banks are required to hold backing assets for their notes at all times. In the event of an authorised bank entering an insolvency process as defined in the Regulations, those assets will be ring-fenced for one year or any longer period that HM Treasury may determine after consulting the Bank, for the sole purpose of reimbursing noteholders through a note exchange programme.

10. To back their note issue, authorised banks may use a combination of Bank of England notes, UK coin and funds placed on deposit in sterling in an interest bearing bank account at the Bank. Bank of England notes held as backing assets may be held at locations approved by the Bank or at the Bank. Notes held as backing assets at the Bank may include £1 million notes (Giants) and £100 million notes (Titans), which in physical terms are permanently held at the Bank.

11. For the purpose of backing requirements, notes issued by an authorised bank are always considered to be one of three mutually exclusive classes, as set out below.

- Notes In Circulation (“NIC”): notes that have been issued by the authorised bank and are now in general circulation, e.g. notes in wallets and purses.
- Notes With the Potential to Enter Circulation (“NWPEC”): notes that are held by or on behalf of the authorised banks but which are available to be issued, e.g. notes held in ATMs or in bank branches.
- Excluded Notes: notes which do not need to be backed. These notes are held by or on behalf of the authorised banks, which fulfil specific requirements and conditions (the General Conditions and Specific Conditions) imposed by the Bank, e.g. are stored in a banknote cage in a secure vault. This includes notes which have been printed but which have not yet been collected from the printer.

12. NIC and NWPEC must be fully backed with backing assets. At least 60% of NIC must be backed by backing assets in the form of Bank of England notes or UK coin. The remaining 40% of NIC and 100% of NWPEC must be backed by backing assets in the form of Bank of England notes, UK coin, or funds placed on deposit in sterling in an interest-bearing account at the Bank. Excluded Notes are not required to be backed.

13. At end-February 2022, the aggregate NIC and NWPEC of all seven banks was £7.81 billion and £0.34 billion respectively. As a consequence, the total backing requirement of all seven banks was £8.15 billion, the breakdown of which is shown in Table 1, an increase of 2.1% from £7.98 billion in 2021. In comparison, Bank of England NIC increased from £80.03 billion to £81.63 billion in the same period, an increase of 2%. The average NIC of all seven banks increased from £7.49 billion to £8.02 billion over the twelve month period. In comparison, the average NIC of Bank of England notes increased from £75.94 billion to £82.56 billion in the same period.⁴

Compliance framework

14. The Bank has a small team of staff within its Notes Directorate to monitor compliance with the regime. The team analyses the daily and weekly data reported by the authorised banks to ensure that both the total value and the composition of backing assets held are at all times in accordance with the legislation. The Bank undertakes a range of other supervisory and compliance activity throughout the year, including checks to verify the value of backing assets and Excluded Notes held, and to confirm that the necessary conditions (e.g. security standards of sites storing backing assets and/or Excluded Notes) are met. The Bank regularly re-evaluates its supervisory activity to ensure that risks to noteholders are adequately mitigated.

Compliance failures and penalties

15. During the year to end-February 2022, the Bank did not impose any financial penalties or assess any Notable compliance failures. The Bank can also issue a Private Warning for a Minor or in exceptional circumstances a Notable compliance failure; however these are not included in the Annual Report.

16. As shown in Table 2 and Chart 1, the number of assessed compliance failures has decreased significantly since the start of the regime.

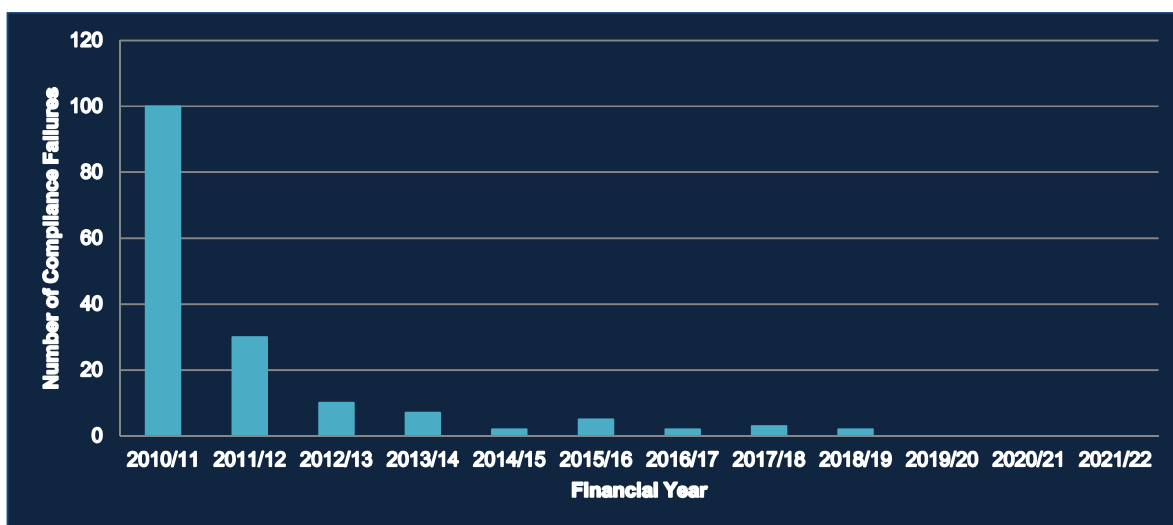

⁴ Bank of England figures do not include Giants and Titans, see paragraph 10.

17. Between the commencement of the regime and end-February 2022, 28 compliance failures have been penalised, and penalties amounting to £119,700 have been issued and paid.⁵ Once received, penalties are passed to HM Treasury.

Chart 1 Assessed compliance failures by date: November 2009 – February 2022

Note: Figures for 2010/11 are based on the date that the new regime came into force (23 November 2009) until the end of the Bank's financial year (28 February 2011). Subsequent reporting periods align with the Bank's financial year, which runs from 1 March. Any compliance failures in the process of being assessed at the end of the reporting period are shown as occurring in the subsequent financial year.

Other developments

18. On 30 June 2020, AIB Group (UK) plc ceased issuing its own banknotes in Northern Ireland, and now dispenses Bank of England banknotes through its Branch and ATM Network. AIB Group (UK) plc were required to continue holding Backing Assets (as defined in the Rules) covering their NIC and NWPEC until 30 June 2022, at which point the remaining Backing Assets were returned to AIB Group (UK) plc⁶. From 01 July 2022, the S&NI Regulations and Rules ceased to apply to AIB.

⁵ Penalties are published in this Annual Report in accordance with Regulation 16 of the Scottish and Northern Ireland Banknote Regulations 2009.

⁶ See AIB Group (UK) plc's website (aibni.co.uk/banknotes) for further details on exchanging their banknotes

19. The Bank continued to discharge its functions under the Regulations throughout the COVID-19 pandemic. Following the lifting of lockdown restrictions, the Bank recommenced full compliance activities, including routine physical checks of Backing Assets and Excluded Notes which had been temporarily suspended. The risks to noteholders were reviewed quarterly and continued to be adequately mitigated through other existing and additional compliance activity during this period.

20. As part of wider contingency preparations in 2021/22, the Bank participated in a business continuity exercise with the authorised banks, which was focussed on a scenario involving extreme weather events.
