Changes to the Bank of England Inflation Report and Quarterly Bulletin

From February 2001 the Bank of England Quarterly Bulletin will carry a broader range of material. To facilitate production of the new format Quarterly Bulletin, the Inflation Report and the Quarterly Bulletin will no longer be published on the same day.

The minutes of the meetings of the Bank's Monetary Policy Committee, previously re-produced as part of the Inflation Report, will now appear as a separate publication on the same day as the Inflation Report. Anyone receiving the Inflation Report will automatically receive the new minutes publication at no additional charge.
