PRA Seminar for Chief Executives of Non-Systemic UK Banks and Building Societies

Martin Stewart, Director of Banks, Building Societies and Credit Unions hosted a seminar for the Chief Executives of non-systemic UK banks and building societies on Wednesday 6 December to provide feedback on trends identified from recent supervisory work, and highlight major prudential policy initiatives for 2018.

Martin was joined by David Thorburn, Member of the Prudential Regulation Committee and former Chief Executive of Clydesdale Bank, who provided his unique perspective 'from both sides' on the changes to prudential regulation over the last five years. The seminar concluded with an open debate on the outlook for UK financial services and future regulatory developments.
