

The future of finance

Our project will set out a vision for the future of the financial system and recommend actions we should take to support this vision — now and in the future.

Some of the questions we'll be asking are:

How can we improve the infrastructure so that UK households and businesses can transact anywhere, anytime and with anyone?

How can the investment industry better serve an ageing population?

How can technology enable cheaper, better and faster provision of financial services and improve the efficiency of markets?

How can finance support the transition to a low-carbon world?

How can we facilitate the increasing integration of emerging markets into the global financial system?

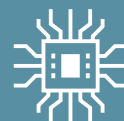

Who we're engaging with and why

Banks and insurers

to find out how they are responding to and driving change

Large tech firms and small fintechs

to explore areas where they are finding ways to innovate financial services

Businesses and consumer groups to ensure their future needs continue to be met as they change

Financial market infrastructure firms to discuss how they can support the provision of financial services in the future
